

Other sources of information

There are many sources of useful information for parents of children with additional needs. The contact details below are for 'umbrella' organisations which keep comprehensive and up to date information about voluntary and statutory agencies and groups. You can use their websites to access information and then contact any individual agencies or groups you feel could offer you support or advice. You can also talk to them direct if you are uncertain what might be useful to you.

Parent Partnership Service

Parent Partnership Service works with parents and carers of all pre-school and school aged children with special educational needs and disabilities. The Parent Partnership Service aims to:

- provide you with information about the education system and special educational needs provision
- help you to get your views heard and valued by professionals
- put you in touch with volunteers who can help by talking things through, helping with paperwork or accompanying you to meetings
- make sure you are actively involved in all aspects of your child's education
- help your child to put forward their own views and be involved in decisions which affect them
- enable disputes to be settled quickly and informally when you are not satisfied
- work with schools and local authorities (LAs) to promote effective partnerships between all those involved with children who have special educational needs.

You can contact Parent Partnership Service about any issue relating to your child's education by:

- telephone helpline – 0115 948 2888
- email – enquiries@ppsnotts.org.uk
- writing to
Clarendon Chambers
32 Clarendon Street
Nottingham
NG1 5LN

You can also find out more information about Parent Partnership Service on the website www.ppsnotts.org.uk
